

“Schreier is a beautiful storyteller, writes in crystalline prose, and presents original and carefully researched historical arguments. He paints a brilliant picture of Algerian Jewries that is far more nuanced than that provided by other sources. His book offers scholars of Algerian/North African/Middle East histories who do not work on Jews a way to understand, situate, and engage this subject.”

—SARAH ABREVAYA STEIN, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, LOS ANGELES

“In this remarkable book, Schreier argues convincingly that Algerian Jews helped to shape the civilizing mission in colonial Algeria. By means of a nuanced and sophisticated analysis Schreier brings the Jews out of the shadows of the wings and places them at the center of the colonial stage, thus adding greatly to our understanding of the dynamics of race and ethnicity as well as the civilizing ideologies of the early decades of French colonization in Algeria.”

—PATRICIA LORCIN, UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

“By crossing the boundaries that have conventionally separated French, Algerian, and Jewish history, Arabs of the Jewish Faith brilliantly illuminates not only the struggles and transformations of Algeria’s Jewish minority but also the ways in which France’s ‘civilizing mission’ impacted both the colonies and the metropole.”

—ZACHARY LOCKMAN, NEW YORK UNIVERSITY

A VOLUME IN THE JEWISH CULTURES
OF THE WORLD SERIES, EDITED BY MATTI BUNZL
AND JEFFREY SHANDLER

RUTGERS
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Visit our Web site at rutgerspress.rutgers.edu

ISBN 978-0-8135-4794-7

