

THE LAUREL LANGUAGE LIBRARY

French Series

This major new foreign language series offers in clear readable format the classics of French literature edited according to best critical and scholarly methods complete with new critical and biographical introductions • notes • chronologies of the authors' lives and works • selected bibliographies • prepared in English by distinguished scholars.

The general editor is Germaine Brée, Professor of French, Institute for Research in the Humanities, University of Wisconsin, and author of such noted studies as Camus, Marcel Proust, and André Gide.

ALBERT CAMUS

This original collection contains essays, sketches, speeches, entries from his unpublished notebooks, his short story, "Le Pierre qui pousse," and the complete text of Les Justes.

Edited with an introduction and notes by the General Editor.